Hi, I'm Coach Danni D!

SPEAKER, COACH, FACILITATOR & PODCAST HOST

I am a process-driven problem solver who has used my creativity and background in operations to turn my once hobby into a six-figure luxury brand. Now I use my experience and problem-solving skill set to help other creative women to develop their luxury brands and work with ease.

During my journey of growth and self-development, I learned two important things. Navigating the business world is challenging and overwhelming and grind culture is robbing us of living a truly fulfilled life. My mission is to help creative women take actionable steps to advance in their industry while creating a success story that reflects their whole life not just their career or family.

Client Testimonial

“Coach D has helped me to calm my whole nervous system and end life in survival mode. She’s taught me that it’s ok to rest and take time for myself! I have learned that the white space in my calendar does not have to always be filled. By having Coach D in my life, I realized how emotionally addicted I was to living at a fast pace. Praise the Lord I have slowed down and I LOVE IT! Thanks Coach D! I truly love you!
